Student of the Month

January - 2020

Matt Fox has been chosen as the Junior class student of the month by Mr. Pike. Matt's dedication and leadership in the music program has greatly impacted the environment in the band room. From his sense of humor to his willingness to work with younger students, he consistently inspires drive an excellence in music. Matt is also a member of the choir, track team, and enjoys writing/producing music in his spare time. Thanks for everything you do, Matt!

Selected by Mr. Jordan Pike

Haley Hinshaw has been chosen as the sophomore student of the month. There is never a dull moment with Haley in class. She never fails to make me giggle but she also impresses me with her excellent work ethic. Haley continues to flourish in Spanish class this year and inspire me with her willingness to ask for help and her desire to strive for growth. Her witty disposition has a way of rubbing off on those around her. She is willing to help her classmates and overall has proven to not only be a great student but to also have a great heart. ¡Estoy orgullosa de ti, lady!

Selected by Profe Randi Durbin

Anastasia Cooper has been chosen as the 7th grade student of the month. Anastasia comes to school every-day with a smile on her face. She is kind to everyone and loves to give hugs. She tries hard at everything she does and she does not give up. I am excited to have her in my class and I get to have a front row seat watching her achieve her goals.

Selected by Mrs. Kay Brown

Brayleigh Price has been chosen as the Randolph Southern eighth grade student of the month for January. She is a quiet, but hard-working student in class. Brayleigh enjoys reading, and always has a smile and never complains. She works well with others, and is a joy to have in class. She has had a great year, and I'm sure she will be a successful high school student next year.

Selected by Mr. Kyle Good

Harley Shinn has been chosen as the senior student of the month. Harley has been staying very busy, making the most of her final year of high school. Harley is a member of the cross country, basketball, archery, and track teams. Additionally, Harley is an active member of 4-H and FFA, where she serves as the FFA chapter Sentinel and shows various animals in 4-H. This year, Harley was a member of the FFA crops judging team that competed at state after winning area contesting. Harley is a delight to have in class, she comes in everyday with a positive attitude, and ready to learn. While Harley isn't sure of her exact plans after high school, her can do attitude and determination will guide her in success wherever she goes.

Selected by Shianna Fry

Kira Kemplen has been chosen as the ninth grade student of the month for January. Kira is an exemplary student who excels in all areas of study. She is an excellent reader and a proficient writer. She expresses herself very efficiently through the written word, but as an introvert, she doesn't vocalize her thoughts often. She has musical talent as well that she exhibits in the Randolph Southern High School concert band. Kira is sure to have an excellent academic future ahead of her.

Selected by Mrs. Sarah Reed
